

Factsheet

Baker Tilly Revas

What is Revas?

Revas is the outsourcing arm of Baker Tilly, a leading UK and international provider of accountancy and business advisory services. It provides a full range of outsourced accounting, payroll, billing, time recording and corporate secretariat services for organisations which need a cost-effective, tailored alternative to managing their pivotal back office functions in-house.

Revas' multidisciplinary team of specialists apply technology intelligently to give clients a truly bespoke service that frees them up to focus on what they do best - running their businesses.

Our Services

We can manage the following four essential back office functions for you - each is customised to your specific needs and can be scaled up or down to reflect your organisation's growth and performance.

Revas Accounting is a cost-effective alternative to the traditional back office accounting model. Some or all of the accounting functions are undertaken by Revas specialists including bookkeeping and preparation of management accounts and related reporting.

All our systems are web-based enabling clients' staff and our team to work collaboratively to maximise efficiency and minimise costs as you only pay for the hours you need.

Revas InTime is a flexible back office solution that manages time recording, payroll processing and billing for the recruitment sector and other time sheet-based labour supply businesses. InTime is a fully integrated system which reduces costs by avoiding the high overheads of an in-house finance and payroll team. It also improves competitiveness through accurate, timely and complete information that frees you up to build your business.

Revas Payroll is a full, flexible outsourced payroll service tailored to clients' specific needs. Clients can amend pay rates and hours online and preview the payroll through the Client Portal before any transactions are made.

They also have total visibility in real time through the portal as well as the ability to download processing, costing, BACS and other reports via our secure web servers.

Revas Corporate Secretariat provides directors and management with professional governance advice and support through its team of qualified company secretaries. Services range from start-up and basic compliance to project and transaction support to a bespoke Good Governance Programme.

Our Clients

Our clients range from start-up inward investment businesses and medium sized private companies to AIM and Main Listed international corporations in a range of sectors including charities, professional services, property investment, recruitment and technology.

Without exception, Revas clients actively seek to optimise their business's profitability and performance by managing their core back office functions efficiently and cost-effectively – and in a way that gives them the detailed, accurate and timely information they need to make good business decisions.

WHY CHOOSE REVAS?

Since Revas was set up at the end of 2005, the company has striven to provide the five most important benefits that clients demand from a service provider:

Affordability – avoid the high overheads of an in-house finance team and only pay for the services you need.

Expertise – your service is delivered by qualified professionals with a proven track record in their field – accounting, payroll, corporate secretariat and IT development.

Freedom – by outsourcing your back office services, your staff can focus on improving the performance and profitability of your business.

Flexibility – all our services are driven by your unique requirements. We can scale our services up or down to reflect your business's growth cycle.

Peace of mind – Revas is the outsourcing arm of Baker Tilly, a leading independent UK and international provider of accountancy, tax and business advisory services. You have access to the best advice whenever you need it.
